Friday, October 20. 1764

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Oct. 23.

Rome, October 4.

THE 27th of last Month, the Pope accompanied by the Sacred College, held a publick Chappel in the Quirinal, to perform a solemn Service on Occasion of the Anniversary of the Death of his Predecessor Pope Innocent the 12th. The next day an Express arriv'd here from Ferrara, to acquaint the Pope, that the Count de Leiningen, with the Imperial Troops he commands, is march'd down from the Trentin into the Bressan; with design to enter into the Milaneze: Which News is very acceptable to his Holiness, as having dissipat'd his Apprehensions that the Imperialists would come into the Ferrareze. The 29th of last Month, the Feast of St. Michael the Archangel, tutelary Protector of the Castle of St. Angelo, was celebrated here with great Solemnity and with the usual Ceremonies: The Cannon of the said Castle were fir'd; the Garrison appear'd in the great Court of the Quirinal Palace, with their Baggage and Artillery, and the Pope from a Balcony that looks into that Court, gave them his Benediction. By order of the Pope Workmen are employ'd in finishing and embellishing the Fountain that stands in the Square of Trevi; it will be made more magnificent, and will discharge a greater Quantity of Water than any other Fountain in Europe. The Queen Dowager of Poland is extremely troubled at the ill Condition of the Affairs of the Electress of Bavaria her Daughter, and of the Princes James and Constantine Sobieski, her Sons. The Pope by a Letter exhorted King Augustus of Poland to discharge those 2 Princes from their Confinement in the Castle of Leipfick in Saxony; but his Majesty has excus'd himself, upon their Brother Prince Alexander's refusing to quit the Party of the Confederates against him.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Octob. 24.

Rome, Octob. 4. The Queen of Poland has caus'd the holy Sacrament to be expos'd on the high Altar of the Church of St. Stanislaus belonging to the Polish Nation, to implore the divine Clemency in favour of the unhappy Kingdom of Poland, and to obtain the Liberty of the 2 Princes her Sons. Her Majesty has frequently been at Prayers before that Altar, and shewn exemplary Devotion. She has found it convenient, now that she cannot receive her Revenue clear as usual out of that Kingdom, to make a Reform in her Household and retrench much of her Expences. Great have been the Contests between the Friends of the House of Austria, and those of the House of Bourbon, about the Victory claim'd by both the Fleets that lately engag'd off Malaga. The French have sung Te Deum for it at Milan and other Places; but 'tis the Opinion of all Indifferent Persons that the French have no Right to call it a Victory on their side, since certain Advice came that they neither sunk nor took one English or Dutch Ship in that Action; and that the Allies instead of retiring from the French as they pretend, the latter would not hazard another Engagement the 2d day, tho' they had the Wind of the Allies.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated Oct. 17.

Usex, October 4. The principal Leaders of the Camisars have surrendred with 800 of their Men. One of them, call'd Joanin, who commanded a considerable Party of them in the Upper Sevensnes, was defeated the 28th of last Month; and the 2d instant came hither, with 46 of his Men well arm'd that were left of his Party, and surrendred themselves. There is but one Party of Camisars now standing out, and they but inconsiderable for their Number, commanded by la Rose; who keeps in the Woods and Hills where 'tis difficult to come at him; yet there are some Troops appointed to seek him out and destroy him and his Party, unless following the Example of the rest, they implore the King's Mercy.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated Oct. 21.

Nimes, October 10. The Affair of the Camisars, which was thought to be as good as ended, is not so yet; for Ravanel, who had promis'd the Marshal de Villars and Monsieur de Basville the Intendant of our Province, to surrender on certain Terms stipulated between them, has broken his Word. The Marshal de Villars is so incens'd against him, that he has said openly he will soon have that Miscreant either alive or dead. La Rose keeps in the Woods and among the Hills, with his small Party; the Royalists are in pursuit of him. 'Tis reported the Camisars have chosen a new Leader call'd Adam; but their Number being very inconsiderable, and being closely pursued on all sides, 'tis hoped they will be quickly reduc'd.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated October 21.

Geneva, October 7. Several Companies of Camisars, of 15, 20, and 30 Men in a Company, are come hither; and among them the Baron d'Aygalliez and some others of their Leaders, with several Ministers. They all report, that having accepted the Offer made to them in the King of France's Name by the Marshal de Villars, of Leave to go out of the Kingdom; Passports were accordingly given to them gratis. They tell us likewise, they expect to be follow'd by a greater Number. Notwithstanding which, they write from the lower Languedoc and the Sevensnes, that for 10 Camisars that lay down their Arms, 15 others run in to those who still hold out; and who have form'd themselves into 3 Bodies; infest the Country in such a manner, that no Persons dare travel the Roads between Montpellier, Nimes, Alais, and Anduze.

Leiden, October 21. Letters from Geneva of the 10th of this Month advise, that 2 small Bands of Camisars arriv'd there the 8th, with Catinar and Castanet 2 of their chief Leaders. But that Advice was come thither, that Turcotte, la Rose, and some others, keep in Arms still in the Sevensnes and the lower Languedoc, and will hearken to no Proposals of Accommodation.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Octob. 22.

Mentz, October 19. Yesterday the Hereditary Prince of Hesse-Cassel arriv'd here; and 'tis believ'd is to command in chief the Troops that are to be employ'd in the Siege of Traerbach. Some Advices from the Camp before Landau, say the Besiegers would attempt to take Post on the Counterscarp the 20th instant.

Cologne,

Cologne, October 21. This day 7 Vessels pass'd down the Rhine through this Place with some English Troops on board them for Holland. The Marshal de Tallard being brought down the Rhine, landed at Rodenkirchen with some other of the principal French Prisoners taken at Bleinheim, and from Rodenkirchen are gone with a Guard to Aix la Chapelle, to drink the Waters there before they go to Holland.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Octob. 21.

Brussels, Octob. 15. The 11th Instant the Elector of Bavaria went from hence to the Castle of Ter-Weuren. The 12th his Electoral Highness set out from thence for Boneff there to begin the View he designs to take of the Lines of Brabant and Flanders, and several fortified Places within them. The Elector of Cologne, his Brother, went with him to Ter-Weuren and from thence set out for Lisse where he will stay some time, but will return hither to pass the Winter in this Town.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Oct. 14.

Antwerp, Octob. 20. The Elector of Bavaria arriv'd here the 18th, and went directly to the Apartment that was prepar'd for him in the Abbey of St. Michael, where he was complimented by the Magistrates and a great Number of Persons of Quality. The same day at 5 in the Afternoon, the Elector assisted at the Te Deum that was sung in our Cathedral for the taking of Ivrea and for his Electoral Highness's happy arrival; and a tripple Salvo was made by the Artillery on our Ramparts. In the Evening he was treated by the Governour of our Citadel. Yesterday he view'd the Works about this City, as likewise some Forts that stand along the side of the Scheld; and tomorrow he goes from hence to view the Lines of Flanderr.
